Army Has Busy Little Tender Named Escanaba

Escanaba continues to be a name honored afloat and ashore.

The Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba distinguished herself on the Atlantic, the Victory Ship Escanaba helped win the war in the Pacific, and there's a busy little U. S. Army Corps of Engineers tender named Escanaba doing big work on the Fox River in Wisconsin.

While the tender is but 45 feet long, nearly 13 feet wide, and has but a 5-foot keel draft, she has a big job to do in keeping the Fox River navigable.

Col. John C. Mattina, Corps of Engineers, Chicago district, reports that the Escanaba is assigned to the Appleton, Wis., project office as attendant to the U. S. Dredge Winneconne. The dredge and the Escanaba has dredged at various locations on the Fox River in Wisconsin and in various harbors on Lake Michigan," Col. Mattina reports. "The total gross yardage dredged in fiscal year 1964 was 65,610. In addition to the above, the Escanaba aids in the maintenance of navigational structures on the Fox River."

The Escanaba was constructed at a cost of $56,500 by the Wiley Manufacturing Co. at Port Deposit, Md., in 1952. Her hull and superstructure are of steel.

The vessel first served in the Army Transportation Corps and was known as the U. S. Army Tug ST 2030. She was acquired in November, 1961, as a surplus item by the Corps of Engineers from the Armed Forces Supply Support Center. Upon arrival at Chicago District her name was changed to Escanaba.

The tender follows in the wake of other illustrious vessels named Escanaba.

There was the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba that exploded and sank in the North Atlantic while on convoy duty in World War II. All but two of her crew died. A copy of her last log was recently received by the Delta County Historical Society.

The other vessel was a Victory Ship launched on the West Coast in World War II and named Escanaba in memory of the ill-fated Coast Guard Cutter and her brave crew.

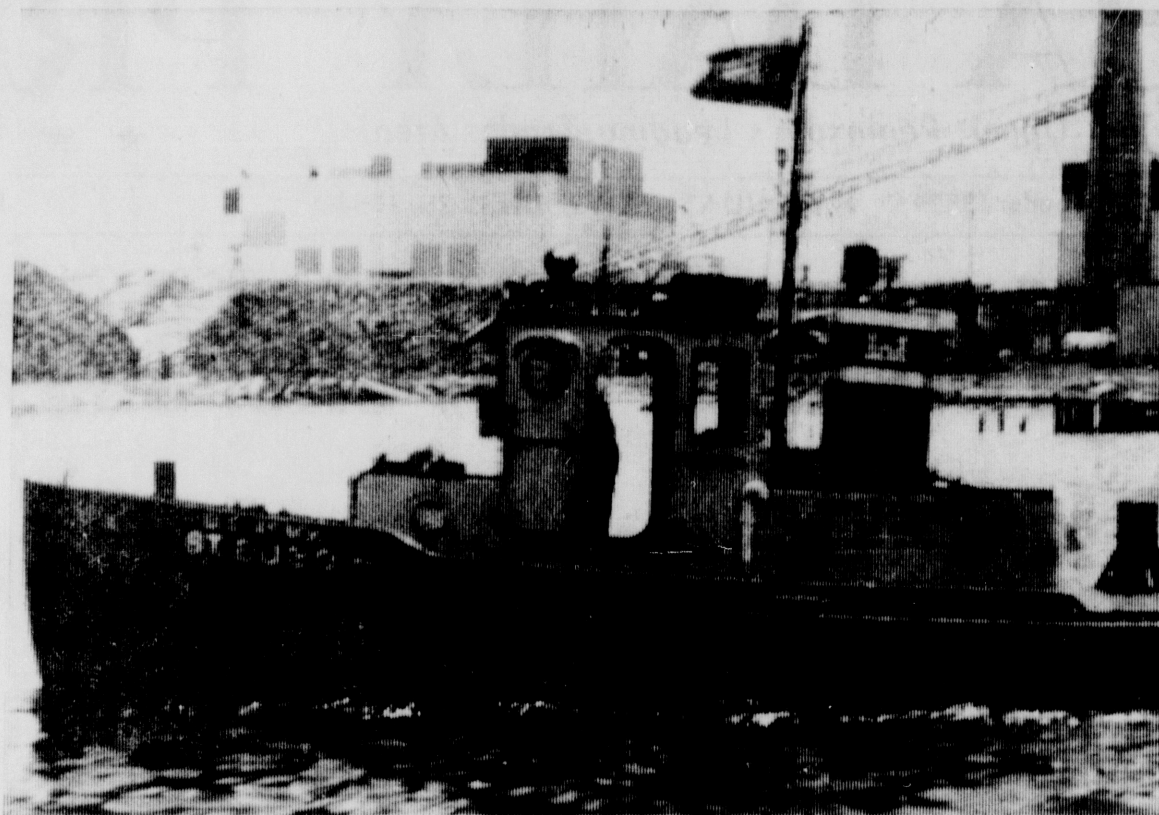

Briefly Told

S/Sgt R. W. Bland, in charge of the Marine Corps recruiting station, Menominee, will visit Escanaba Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of interviewing applicants interested in the Marine Corps. at the Post Office Building, Room 206, Escanaba.

Bruce A. Malmstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Malmstead, Rte. 1, and a graduate of Escanaba Area High School, has enrolled for the fall quarter at the Milwaukee School of Engineering.

The Michigan Education Association will sponsor a workshop for presidents of its Upper Peninsula units Dec. 5 at Northern Michigan University. Some educators are expected to attend.

Windstorms do not occur on the moon.

ORIGINALLY BUILT in Maryland for Army transportation service, the tender Escanaba is now assigned to attend a Corps of Army Engineers dredge at Appleton, Wis.

Rifle Teams Are Assigned At Bark River

BARK RIVER—Ray Meyers, Marksmanship instructor of the Bark River Junior Rifle Club assigned 30 members to divisions in the National Rifle Association Postal Team match which is in progress from Nov. 1 to Feb. 28:

Group B, Team 1, Brian Adams, Larry Arkens, Richard Ault, Gary Berquist, David Bugay, Joseph Butryn, Wallace Ault, Herbert Peterson, Dennis Porath, Paul Westlake; Team 2, Andrew Barr, Jr., Dale Derouin, James Frossard, Richard Grzyb, Gregory Meyers, Allan Richer, James Potvin, Robert Robinette, Dan VanEnkevort, Antone Westlake; Group C, all girls team, Connie Adams, Carol Arkens, Sheila Arkens, Sherry DeBen, Suzanne DeBen, Kerry Langlois, Bonnie Rae Meyers, Regina Rae Meyers, Sandra Peterson, and Janet Quist.

All members are asked to compete each month in the postal team match as each must fire his target each month to remain in the match.

During the business meeting held Wednesday evening Meyers issued the following medals and certificates: promarksmanship, Dan VanEnkevort, Paul Westlake, Gregory Meyers, Richard Grzyb, David Bugay; marksmanship first class, medal and certificate, Robert Robinette, Carol Arkens; 1st bar medal, Regina Rae Meyers, Kerry Langlois, Richard Ault; 3rd bar medal, Andrew Barr, Jr., Wallace Ault.

Three new members joined the Club, Janis Quist, Roger Quist, and Antone Westlake. The prize of fifty rounds of ammunition went to Dan VanEnkevort.

At the conclusion of the business meeting two movies were shown by Stanley Peterson, "Enchantment Mile," and "Broadbills and Blue Geese, Wild Life Across the Sky."

The next general meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 7 p. m. in the Community Hall. Shoots are held every Wednesday evening and members shoot on the nights assigned. Assistants to Meyers during the month were Edgar Larson, Edward LeBeau, Joseph Pach and Leo Knauf.

Hunters at the Louis Grzyb camp were William Hankley, Robert and Fred Grzyb of Chicago, Louis and Richard Grzyb. Louis got a spike horn buck and his 15-year-old son, Richard, bagged his first deer, a 5-point buck Saturday morning. The others were unsuccessful.

Ronald and Howard Helwig of Chicago, Jerome Gonsiewski of Detroit, and David Kwarciany of Milwaukee hunted from the Martin Kwarciany camp. Gonsiewski returned to Detroit Friday with an 8-point buck. The David Kwarciany family returned to Milwaukee Monday.

Mrs. Genevieve Bachleda and her brother, Marlin Meyers of Chicago, visited relatives in Bark River and Schaffer. Meyers returned home with a bear.

Mrs. Kenneth Nelson, the former Judy Boyle, and son returned to Milwaukee Sunday after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. William Boyle.

Milk Marketing Crisis Sighted

Jack W. Barnes, general manager of Michigan Milk Producers Association, reports that the trend toward fewer and bigger dairy farms is not as pronounced in the Upper Peninsula as in the Lower Peninsula. The Association serves both peninsulas as agent between dairy farmers and milk processor.

In September, says Barnes, southern Michigan produced about 8 per cent more milk with 750 fewer farms supplying the market. Average production per farm in September was 855 pounds of milk compared to 744 pounds a year ago. This is the greatest year to year increase on record.

As a result, Class 1 (drinking milk) use of the production declined percentage-wise from a year ago, although Class 1 sales increased nearly 5 per cent.

This trend was not as pronounced in either the top of the Lower Peninsula or the Upper Peninsula.

As manufacturing milk (for cheese, etc.) has disappeared or moved to higher priced, more profitable Grade A, said Barnes, many processors have gone out of business and MMPA has had to provide the facilities to handle the additional Class 2 (manufacturing) milk. (In the U. P. MMPA bought several dairy plants to retain its U. P. member's milk markets.)

In September there were 600,000 pounds more of Class 2 milk per day than last year in Southern Michigan. MMPA's share was about 450,000 pounds a day. "If production continues its present pattern," said Barnes "we're clearly headed for a very tight situation in May 1965."

Old Fire Truck Is Going Home

RAPID RIVER—A familiar sight will be gone from the Rapid River streets come next summer. The old red fire truck owned by Rapid River's Congregational Church and used for summer Saturday bake sales, will leave Rapid River soon for Alma, Mich., where it will be placed in the Alma State Bank for exhibition purposes.

The old fire truck was built at the Alma Trailer Sales at Alma in 1923. When it arrived in Rapid River was the first motorized fire truck in town.

The Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church, under the direction of Hugh Harris, bought the truck in 1959 from Masonville township to be used for church purposes and has since become a familiar sight to the people living in the Rapid River area.

This past summer Arvid R. Hicks of Alma spotted the fire wagon parked in Ray LaBumbard's yard and recognized the wagon's vintage of 1923 and maker as that of the Alma Trailer Sales. Hicks, representing Alma's Rotary Club, asked LaBumbard if the church would consider a trade for the wagon as the Alma Rotary Club would like to return the wagon to its original home and have it restored as a memorial.

Last week the Men's Fellowship met with Hicks and a trade was transacted. Hicks will get the wagon for an Alma memorial and the Men's Fellowship at Rapid River Congregational will get in exchange a new 8x20 foot aluminum house trailer made to order for serving the purposes of the church.

The new trailer will be on hand for the opening of the 1965 Women's Fellowship's weekly summer bake sales. The red wagon will leave Rapid River before the new year and will go to the Alma High School where it will be rejuvenated by the high school's industrial arts class.

Motorist Shoots Man Who Yelled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police say a motorist shot and wounded a man who yelled at him and also an eight-year-old boy playing nearby. Police are still searching for the motorist.

Detectives said that John Whitney, 38, yelled at a motorist Thursday who nearly ran him down.

The detectives said the motorist stopped, cursed at Whitney, and then opened fire, hitting Whitney three times. A fourth shot hit Ronald Thomas, playing about 40 feet away. Whitney was hospitalized in serious condition. The boy was treated and released.

21 Men Mailed Draft Orders

Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director from Lansing, has announced that local draft boards are to proceed immediately with classification of all registrants born in 1945.

Holmes said all classifications must be completed by June, 1965.

Mary M. Wagner, clerk of local draft board No. 21 in Escanaba, said that this would mean some men would be getting classification questionnaires earlier than usual. She added that no increase in draft quotas were expected.

Five men have been ordered to report for induction and 16 for pre-induction at 1:30 p. m. on Dec. 2, Miss Wagner announced. The group will leave by chartered bus for Milwaukee. Pre-inductees will return on Dec. 3.

Ordered to report for induction are: Stephen P. Gabourie, Escanaba, leader of the group; Craig A. Peterson, Escanaba; Robert J. Labadie, Nahma; Robert Ozimac, Escanaba; and Raymond W. Malnar, Ensign (transferred to Goshen, Ind.).

Pre-inductees are: James J. Viau, Escanaba leader of the group; John F. Gendron, Gladstone; Steven C. Jensen, Bark River (trans. to Los Angeles); Marshall F. Sodergren, Escanaba; Clifford White, Escanaba; Gerald M. DeGrand, Escanaba (trans. to Milwaukee); Robert D. Sundquist, Bark River; Kenneth J. Iverson, Escanaba; Gordon J. Anderson, Escanaba (trans. to Milwaukee); Ralph T. Rivard, Escanaba; Ronald Lindstrom, Rock; Norman Gilbert, Rock; John James Derkos, Escanaba; Wallace L. Godfrey, Gladstone (trans. to Ennis, Tex.); Wayne C. Fournier, Rock; and John D. Swed, Escanaba (trans. to Manitowoc, Wis.).

Local Group Puts County Home Rule On Study Agenda

The State Affairs Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce met at the Chamber building Wednesday to consider its program of activity for the year. Chairman John Stoll presided.

Among the projects considered by the committee for study and action were county home rule; the proposed drop-out school at Blaney Park; speed-up of M-35 improvements from Gladstone to Rapid River and M-35 to Marquette; additional public access sites in the Bay de Noc area to the shore; and an accelerated improvement program for the Fayette State Park camping facilities.

Reports on these projects will be made at the committee's next meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 9 at 4 p. m. at the Chamber building.

Attending Wednesday's meeting were Chairman Stoll, Erling Arntzen, August Brazeau, Clint Dunathan and Donald Haapala.

Frank X. Stolpe, Coast Guard recruiter, will be at the Escanaba Coast Guard Station, Friday Dec. 4, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Memories Can Cheer Old Age

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memories in the heart can do more to cheer your age than money in the bank.

You've had your fair share of living if you can remember when—

Your biggest goal in life was to ride down a hill on a bicycle with your feet on the handlebars.

Mothers cured children of thumbucking in their sleep by tying an old stocking over their hand at bedtime.

In many neighborhoods you could see dogfights in the street several times a day.

During prohibition, if a man walked unsteadily, it was suspected he had the "jake leg" from drinking a bad batch of Jamaica ginger.

Children seemed to learn more in school, and didn't have to spend all evening doing homework.

Walnut Stain
More grandmothers puffed on cornoc pipes than smoked cigarettes.

Autumn's greatest delight for a boy was to go walnut hunting in the woods. Later, when you removed the rotting rinds, the stain remained on your fingers for weeks.

During World War I, the flu epidemic caused Uncle Sam more casualties than did the Kaiser.

Everybody bought things at retail. Nobody seemed to have a friend who could get it for him wholesale.

It was a family crisis if a girl with long hair went to the barbershop and got it bobbed. Mother wept, and father stormed.

The fellow who knocked on your front door and tried to sell you a magazine subscription was working his own way through college — not his son's.

Village Idiot Quoted
You smugly felt you had done your bit for the lord if you dropped a quarter in the collection plate on Sunday; some gave only a dime.

Well-to-do families in small towns usually kept a hired girl. If you called her a maid or tried to get her to wear a uniform, she'd quit.

Before the rise of suburban cookouts, the only people who generally cooked their food outdoors were cowboys and hoboes.

A wise child hung up his mother's stocking on Christmas Eve because it would hold more presents than his own.

The most quoted fellow in a village was the village idiot. Everybody would rather have him around than send him to a state asylum, where they'd miss the benefit of his daft wisdom.

A spendthrift was a guy who bought a suit with only one pair of pants.

Those were the days! Remember?

Arrest Witness, Charge Battaglio In Delta Murder

The FBI in Chicago Friday arrested its star witness and formally charged diminutive Philip A. Battaglio Jr. with taking part in the kidnap slaying of an Indianapolis man whose body was found a week ago in Delta County's Garden Peninsula.

Robert Duane Lazzaro, 27, of Chicago was charged with abetting the kidnaping after his arrest at a Chicago grocery store.

Investigators said Lazzaro, who lived at the same residence in Chicago with Battaglio and Ray Weddell Thorburn, the admitted triggerman in the murder, told them that he had seen Battaglio and Thorburn tie and gag William R. Loomis in a Melrose Park motel on Oct. 15.

Lazzaro reportedly was in the motel room with Battaglio and Thorburn when the abduction took place.

Waives Hearing
Loomis' body was discovered by a deer hunting party last Saturday three miles northeast of Fayette State Park in Fairbanks Township.

Battaglio, who weighs 70 pounds and is a mere four feet 10 inches tall, was jailed without bond after his attorney, Doris Conrod, waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner J. S. Bentley Pike in Chicago.

Meanwhile, Thorburn, who was arrested Thursday by Missouri State Police at a cafe near Lebanon, Mo., was moved from Laclede County jail in Lebanon to Springfield, Mo., to await arraignment on kidnapping charges in Federal Court.

Delta County Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis said today that arraignment is scheduled for Dec. 3 in either Springfield or Kansas City, Mo.

Admits Shooting
Thorburn was arrested on a first degree murder warrant issued by Justice Ross Davis of Gladstone.

Chapekis said any court action in Delta County would depend on what federal action was taken against the men.

Thorburn has admitted shooting Loomis to Missouri authorities, but denies participation in a kidnap plot, contending that Loomis came to the Upper Peninsula voluntarily to complete a deal for his 1960 white Jaguar sports car.

In a telephone call to his Indianapolis home on Oct. 15, Loomis told his wife Gineette that he had a $300 down payment on the car and was waiting to close the deal.

According to a signed statement given to police by Battaglio, he accompanied Thorburn to the Melrose Park Motel where Loomis was staying in response to an advertisement from a Chicago newspaper.

Movement Traced
The statement said that Loomis was trussed there, put in the white Jaguar and driven to the Upper Peninsula where Thorburn forced him from the car at gunpoint took him into the woods and shot him.

The shooting reportedly took place around noon on Oct. 16.

Witnesses have placed Battaglio and Thorburn in Gladstone on the afternoon of Oct. 16 and in Stephenson on Oct. 17, police said. An investigation to determine exactly where Battaglio and Thorburn traveled after the slaying is currently underway.

Police believe that they spent the night of Oct. 16 in the Upper Peninsula, but no evidence has been uncovered linking either man to the U. P.

Battaglio was arrested by the FBI in Chicago last Tuesday night. Thorburn avoided arrest until Thursday.

Police said that a trail of credit card forgeries had led them to Memphis, Tenn., where Loomis' car was found abandoned in a garage for repairs.

Thorburn Armed
Thorburn, who rented a car in Memphis and traveled to California, was arrested in the leased car 20 hours after an all points bulletin had been issued by Michigan State Police on the first degree murder warrant issued by Davis.

Police said he was carrying credit cards and other identification belonging to Loomis and was armed with a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver.

Michigan State Police crime lab reports indicate that Loomis had been shot with a .38 caliber pistol.

A hitch-hiker, Thurman Justice, 19, of Fenton, Mich., who Thorburn had picked up in California, denied knowledge of the Michigan murder case, but was charged with carrying a concealed weapon by Missouri authorities. He had a switchblade knife in his possession.

Fr. Mazzuchelli Cause Started In Wisconsin

ST. IGNACE—The first of a series of steps that could lead to sainthood have been taken for a Catholic priest who served as a missionary in the St. Ignace area in the early 1830's.

Bishop William P. O'Connor of Madison, Wis., has established a Diocesan Historical Commission for the Cause of Father Samuel Mazzuchelli, O.P., who died 100 years ago.

This is the first official step toward beatification and possible eventual sainthood.

Father Mazzuchelli was a contemporary of Bishop Frederic Baraga, first Catholic Bishop of the Upper Peninsula. The Baraga Historical Commission has been working since 1951 for the beatification of Bishop Baraga.

After leaving the Straits of Mackinac area, Father Mazzuchelli went on to establish 40 parishes in southern Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa.

BASIC CROSSES
It is generally regarded that there are five basic crosses: Greek cross, Latin cross, St. Andrew's cross, Swastika and Tau cross. More than 500 variations from these basic crosses have been made by craftsmen.

County Board Meets Monday

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will meet at 8 p. m. Monday at the County Building to consider an agreement for partial purchase of Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers from Iron County.

Also expected to be discussed is a space allocation report on the County Building from a special committee headed by Supervisor George W. Rusch of Escanaba.

Iron County, which pulled out of Pinecrest after the unit was changed from a Tuberculosis Sanatorium to a Medicare facility, has approved sale of its one-fourth interest in the plant to Delta, Dickinson and Menominee Counties for $78,400.

Delta County's share of this would be slightly over $26,130, according to Board Chairman Charles Sedenquist. Sedenquist said that no county funds have been appropriated for this purpose.

The Dickinson County Board already has approved its share in the purchase agreement.

Before completion of the deal, Menominee and Delta County also must vote approval.

The special committee headed by Rusch was established by the Board to study available space in the County Building. The Board has voted to shift the County Welfare Offices from the State Office Building to the west wing of the County Building, but delayed the move to allow time for a complete space report.

Three offices in the wing, formerly occupied by the Intermediate School District staff, are vacant and plans call for the Welfare Dept. to take these three offices, plus four now being used by the County Extension service.

The Extension directors would move to other quarters.

Ironwood Cuts Number In Fire And Police Force

IRONWOOD—The city commission, after weeks of study, has ordered dissolution of the public safety department and reversion to separate police and fire units, effective Dec. 1.

But, the commission decided, it would be financially impossible to return the two departments to their former status, as far as manpower is concerned.

The full time fire department will be comprised of Chief John Kangas and nine firemen, to be supplemented by a volunteer group of from 20 to 25 men who will receive $5 for each training session.

Chief Donald E. Nevala will have a force of 17 policemen under his command. The commission said this force would be gradually reduced as vacancies occur through retirement.

IMMUNITY

U. S. Justice Department officials can find no legislation or fixed law on the subject of who has the legal right to arrest the president of the nation. Most authorities in the field of constitutional law, however, seem to agree that the chief executive is immune from arrest.

Escanaba Area Public Schools Lunch Program

City Intervenes In Gas Hearing

Escanaba's interest in obtaining a supply of natural gas for the benefit of its people must be protected, the City Council decided today in approving city intervention at a Federal Power Commission hearing to be held in Washington on Jan. 26.

The Council met at 11:30 a.m. in special session at City Hall.

City Manager George Harvey said the city will maintain a "neutral" position in the hearing. It will not try to influence the FPC's decision on which of the competing natural gas firms should be approved to bring a supply of gas to this area and this region.

The city's position was linked by the city manager to that of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which earlier announced that it is intervening to protect the interests of the people of the state.

The decision of the City Council had to be made by Dec. 4, the deadline for intervention. The City will be represented at the hearing by Black & Veatch, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo., who prepared for the city a natural gas study report.

The Black & Veatch report and other information is being studied by a Natural Gas Citizens Advisory Committee recently appointed by the Council.

"The Council wants to protect an allocation of natural gas to Escanaba," said City Manager Harvey. "Although at this time we do not know what the ultimate decision of the people may be on retaining or selling the municipal gas distribution system, we do know that the Escanaba area wants and needs a natural gas supply."

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. of Detroit and Northern Natural Gas Co. are competing for the opportunity to serve the U. P., but they have indicated willingness to compromise. Michigan Consolidated would extend a pipeline into the area from Marinette-Menominee to serve the southern U. P.; and Northern Natural would bring a line in from Minnesota to serve the northern area of the region.

Unlike any other community in the area, Escanaba owns and operates a municipal gas distribution system. Michigan Consolidated has said it will make an offer to purchase. Before there could be a sale approval would have to be voted by the people.

One Year After

Americans seemed to have a general feeling that a whole year could not have passed by between the assassination of President Kennedy and the first anniversary of his death. The shocking impact of the great crime was still so strongly with the American people that the element of immediacy lingered when the anniversary was observed.

The extent of the observance troubled some observers and also the character of some of it. Some commercialism is almost inevitable when anything so moves a great people, but the character of the comment adds more material to the record from which history will fashion the image of President Kennedy, as distinguished from the myths that surround all great men, and especially any who die in the dramatic circumstances of the President's assassination.

The observance showed the great respect and affection of the American people for John Kennedy. He was gone, the personal issues which he raised were no longer confronting the public, so it could indulge the magnanimity of posthumous admiration. But even here there was some dissent.

Joseph Alsop writes in the Saturday Evening Post: "He neither liked nor admired most of our liberal intellectuals; and he was even given, on occasion, to making fairly hilarious fun of the liberals' special hero, Adlai Stevenson. American liberals too often struck Kennedy as sterile in their prescriptions, and he always suspected them, too, of being more eager to demonstrate their own ineffable righteousness than to get done the things that needed doing. . . . Many American liberals always cherished an ill-concealed dislike for Kennedy while he was alive; and even now, when he is dead and they loudly proclaim their posthumous admiration, they still vent their lingering spleen on his partner-brother, Robert Kennedy."

Time Magazine said "The outpouring of the memorials was new testimony to the well-established fact that John F. Kennedy's style had caught the imagination of people around the world. The best of the memorials were, correctly, a tribute to the spirit rather than an attempt to overstate his accomplishments."

Pollster Lou Harris reported that a national survey showed that 35 per cent of the people miss John Kennedy more than they did a year ago, 35 per cent have no strong feelings and 30 per cent believe that "time is healing the wound."

There are nearly 60 books about the late President on the market and the nation—if the memorials can be accepted as an indication of national interest and not merely of mass media programming—is more interested in the man than in his lifetime. The image being constructed of John Kennedy is a contrived thing, as in all such circumstances and it accents the man's humor and humanity and goes lightly on his record in office.

"In the bare space of a year," says Newsweek "Mr. Kennedy has been transfigured from man into myth—an enshrinement that would have pained him to see. . . . The men and women who knew the John Kennedy (of good taste and discipline) recoiled for him, by proxy at some of the excesses of his mourners. . . . He didn't go for mythology. By the hard, standard measure of bills passed at home and victories won abroad, John Kennedy's 1,000 days were scarcely an unmixed success."

"At home his ambitious legislative program was heavily damaged by a stubborn Congress, and, so even some friendly observers thought, by Mr. Kennedy's excessive awe of Capitol Hill. He won some prize plums: the Peace Corps, trade expansion, aid to higher education. But he took some damaging defeats. Medicare died aborning. The Senate deformed JFK's tax reform bill into a tattered paste-up. Foreign aid got into deepening trouble. And the crowning achievements in the Kennedy record—civil rights and the tax cut—were put across under the more practiced stewardship of Lyndon B. Johnson."

"Abroad the Kennedy years were shadowed by the Bay of Pigs fiasco, the disarray of the West the faltering first steps of the Alliance for Progress, the dirty and insufficiently defined little war in Viet Nam. Against these debit entries the ledger offered history a successful 1961 confrontation over Berlin that still did not stop the wall: an eyeball-to-eyeball face-down that got the missiles but not the Communists out of Cuba; a test-ban treaty that does not cover two of the five nuclear powers."

But Newsweek suggests that history will judge Mr. Kennedy by other measures and there is general agreement on this and the trend of his first anniversary memorials take this direction. Alsop writes in the Post that from a young congressman who took small interest in national lawmaking Mr. Kennedy became an avid student of government. "Nor you nor I can tell how John F. Kennedy will survive in the memory of generations to come. Yet I myself believe he will be remembered as one of the great Presidents. It seems to me that his time in office, for all its tragic shortness, was nonetheless a time of renovation and renewal, when our country found a new and better course after years of long search."

Alsop, a friend, says "No one could have differed more sharply from the good, average American, who watches television in his off-hours, is content if he is a two-car family, and does not mind bulging a bit in middle age. . . . In a business society he did not value big businessmen as individuals unless they had proved themselves in other arenas. . . . I sometimes wondered how Kennedy managed to win the votes and hearts of so many Americans."

Said Newsweek: "The historians—not the makers of myth—were the audience he played to."

Three New R's

How do you prepare college students for jobs which do not yet exist?

You don't, a panel of educators has agreed. Discussing educational problems peculiar to the fast-changing space age, Dr. Robert L. Clodius, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin, spoke frankly.

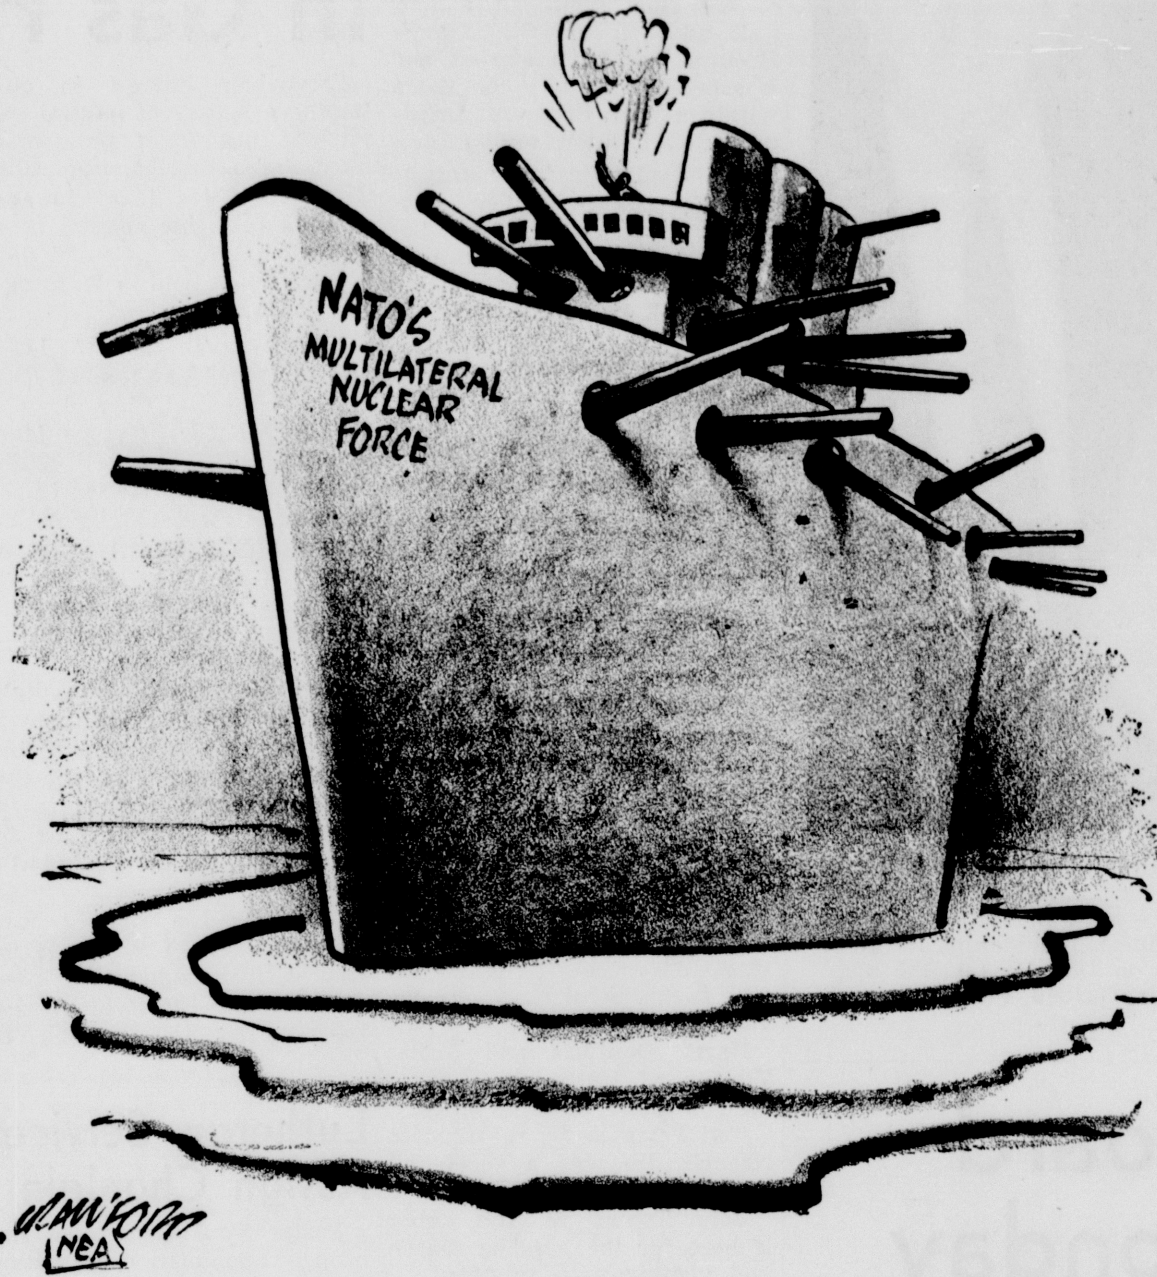

"You despair of teaching anyone just facts," he said, "because facts seem to change."

"About one-third of what we teach today is wrong. The trouble is, we don't know which third."

"You have to teach college students the new three R's of reason, realism and responsibility, and hope that they will have some enduring qualities which will last for the next 40 years."

It's comforting to know that educators are meeting the challenge of modern living with those same three R's—reason, realism and responsibility. That's a hard combination to beat, and it ought to get the job done for educators and students.

"Full Speed Ahead Astern by the Starboard Helm!"

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The game of diplomatic musical chairs, involving a change in several key ambassadorial posts, is on in earnest in the capital.

Our man in London, David K. E. Bruce, is moving toward retirement. Presently marked for this highly prized spot is George McGee, U. S. ambassador to West Germany and a close friend of President Johnson.

McGee is a Texas geologist who did diplomatic duty in the Truman administration and was called back to the firing line by his old friend and Oxford compatriot, Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

If any should argue that McGee is not ideally suited for dealings with Britain's new Labor government, it should be noted that he would be backed up by our new minister (second man) in London, Philip Kiser. Kiser's background includes study in Britain and duty here as an assistant secretary of labor for international affairs.

In the event the Bonn spot opens up through transfer of McGee, the likeliest replacement is said to be William Tyler, now assistant secretary of state for European Affairs.

Ambassador Frederick Reinhardt in Italy should be coming home soon after long years abroad. He probably can command a reasonably high State Department post.

No one is clearly set for Rome. It might go to Llewellyn Thompson, who would like one more overseas assignment before retiring. But, as former U. S. ambassador to Russia, he is being leaned on heavily by the President and others for counsel on Soviet matters.

Another possibility is Stanley Marcus of the Dallas department store family. Also a presidential friend, he would be new to diplomacy, though he has been a government adviser.

The veteran careerist, Charles (Chip) Bohlen, ambassador to France, is expected to stay in Paris a while longer. Yet some sources describe him as tired and dispirited, this last through lack of progress in dealings with the old ramrod, President Charles de Gaulle.

BARBS

Many politicians just itching to get into office were scratched at the polls.

It isn't too early to suggest giving dad toys for Christmas so the kids can play with their own.

Few people will be interested in knowing that an Ohio

Now that the elections are over, we wonder how many relatives of successful candidates have landed jobs.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year. . . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

He might get out before next summer.

U. S. Ambassador Robert Woodward in Spain is another who is due to bow out. For this career man, retirement beckons. His successor evidently has not been settled upon.

A prospect is Chief of Protocol Angier Biddle Duke, who wants to leave his present duties and would like a good post in a Spanish-speaking country. He once served as ambassador to El Salvador.

If Duke does not get Madrid, he might be given a top Latin-American assignment. Venezuela is one of the good openings.

All set for Duke's protocol job, of course, is Lloyd Hand, friend of guess who, Texas migrant to California, often styled this year as "Lyndon's man in California."

Apparently a fixture at least until spring, when the new United Nations session is expected to run its course, is UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

One source says Stevenson is viewed by some as an ideal man for London and would be hard to refuse if he gave the signal. But no one here reports any smoke wafting from the top of the UN building in New York.

Stevenson's UN spot is regarded now as a rich plum, since it affords the occupants a great showcase from which to build national political status. Henry Cabot Lodge's 1960 jump to the GOP vice presidential nomination illustrates.

Stevenson has abandoned political ambition, but he is believed today to enjoy the UN post far more than he once did. Should he have a change of heart, there will be no lack of candidates for his important assignment.

Finding The Way

Thanks For Everything

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

It's impossible to just give a "thank." One gives "thanks!" You can't just give a "thank" for a good book or great music or rewarding friendship. The singular is insufficient for the overflow of joy. It was this bursting of gratitude that erupted from the spirit of St. Paul when he told those early Christians to "sing and make music in your hearts unto the Lord, and in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ give thanks every day for everything to our God and Father."

There is no easy sentimentality about this. It isn't pretending that life is simple or that there is no need to struggle for justice or to work for righteousness. To thank God for everything is no Pollyanna sentiment. It is simply to see the wonder of life where we are. Keats described it:

Then felt I like some watcher of the skies
When a new planet swims into his ken;
Or like stout Cortez when with eagle eyes
He stared at the Pacific—and all his men
Look'd at each other with a wild surmise—
Silent, upon a peak in Darien.

Giving thanks is having this "wild surmise," recognizing the possibilities in the human being as in the vast unexplored areas of space!

Gym Is Open For Recreation

ROCK — The Rock High School gym is being used for public recreation every Saturday evening, unless school activities are scheduled for that night. Young people are welcome Dec. 5 and every other Saturday. Adults are welcome Nov. 28 and every other Saturday.

Adult recreation is for folks 18 years and older from 8-10 p. m. Volleyball, basketball, badminton and trampolines are some of the activities.

Young people from 10 through high school are welcome on young people's night. The gym is open from 6:30-9 p. m.

PTA Meeting

A film "When I'm Old Enough, Goodbye" was shown at the Rock PTA meeting Monday evening. It depicted high school dropouts and some of the problems they face because they do not have a high school diploma.

The PTA donated $200 to the Rock Student Loan Fund. Collecting at the school for the savings program will be Mrs. George Vandenberg, Dec. 4. Mrs. Elmer Linjala, Dec. 11. Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz, Dec. 18. Serving lunch during the Dec. 8 basketball game will be Mrs. Waino Bakka and Mrs. Mankiewicz. Mrs. Jeannette Vogts and Mrs. Mary Nelson's rooms tied for room attendance award. Lunch was served after the meeting in the home ec room by mothers of Mrs. Helmi Lepisto's room. The next meeting will be Jan. 25.

Mrs. Herbert Erickson of Oconto Falls and Ralph Erickson of Random Lake, Wis., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ramseth.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago
E. G. Bennett, president of the Escanaba Paper Company, will retire after serving the local unit of the company since 1920. A reception and gifts were given him yesterday.

James E. Powers, 78, a lifelong resident of Escanaba and a retired employee of the C&N.W. Railway, died today at his home at 1114 Sixth Ave. S.

The Rev. George E. Reichard, assistant to the president at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., has arrived in Escanaba and will serve as interim pastor at the First Presbyterian church until a successor to the Rev. James H. Bell has been named.

Twenty Years Ago

Six children of Frank Hirm of Escanaba, and also six of Mr. and Mrs. Erickson of Thompson are in the armed service, a checkup of families in the service in the area reveals.

Lt. Col. Ralph O. Jensen, former trainmaster at Gladstone, is directing the movement of hospital trains in France at present.

This entire area is snow-bound today. Schools are closed, trains are way late, snow plows are out and the crews are working valiantly trying to clear the highways. Visibility is almost zero.

Thirty Years Ago

In response to many requests from north side residents, a policeman will be assigned to night duty in the Seventh precinct. There has been much pernicious mischief going on in that vicinity and that has resulted in the move by the department.

Manistique has of late charged a $10 license fee for amateur boxing shows, but in deference to area CCC camp boys, this license has been waived. There is much talent among these young men and often some idle time on their hands. So the advice has been to let them box. Some good shows are in the offing.

Plans for the departmental program of the chorus of the Escanaba Women's Club have been completed. Mrs. John A. Semer will be vocal soloist for the evening. Mrs. Edward Lucas is chairman of the club's music department.

INSTANT SOLUTION

BONDURANT, Iowa (AP)—Four-year-old Tom Criswell of Bondurant has his own solution for the world's problems. "Take the devil to Sunday School," young Tom told his dad, J. J. Criswell.

Ann Landers

Bugs And Worms Dodged In Food

Dear Ann Landers: If this had happened to me only once I would overlook it, but since it seems to be a recurring problem, I need some advice.

What does one do when he is a guest in a home and is served food which contains some foreign and inedible body?

Several months ago a beautifully arranged salad was placed before me. Under one of the lettuce leaves was a dead bug. I almost gagged when I saw it but managed to control myself.

A few weeks later I was served a fly in the soup. This occurred in a restaurant so I simply sent the soup back. (The waiter apologized.) Last night it happened again—at a dinner party in the home of a friend. The dessert was peaches and ice cream. I was half way through the dessert when I spotted two little worms on a peach section. I was talking with the hostess at the time and heroically ate around the little creatures.

What shall I do if this sort of thing occurs again?—NOT HUNGRY

Dear Not: Just keep on doing what you're doing. So far you've fielded the emergencies with admirable aplomb. Any one who can eat around the worms and carry on a conversation with the hostess does not need advice from me.

Dear Ann Landers: How do I break the news to a woman that it's all over? I'm a divorced man who has been going with a 42-year-old woman for almost four years. She has never been married, owns her own home, plus other inherited property. I'm afraid she's too comfortable for her own good. I asked her two years ago to set the date but she never got around to it.

Three months ago I ran into a woman I used to know back in Montana. Her husband died last year and she moved to this city to live with her widowed sister. The second time I took her out I knew she'd be a wonderful wife for me. She said "yes" on our fourth date.

Now how do I tell the other woman without hurting her feelings? After all, I took up four years of her time.—ALEX

Dear Alex: Your solicitude is unwarranted. A 42-year-old maiden lady who has been dragging her feet on the way to the altar isn't going to take the news very hard. She may even be relieved.

Dear Ann Landers: My three married daughters are always having trouble with their husbands. They all have children, which, in my eyes, is reason enough to keep a home together even if it isn't all honey and roses.

For the past six years one daughter or another has been at home with me at least half the time. They just show up at the door with their children and say, "I've left him for good this time."

In a few days the husband appears and they sit down and talk things over for half an hour. Then they leave together—happy.

If they can talk it over in MY living room, why can't they talk it over in their own living room? I've told them repeatedly I don't want to be involved in their family troubles and not to come running home. They come anyway. At the moment two girls are here with their five children. I can't lock them out. What's the solution?—UNWITTING ACCOMPlice

Dear Unwitting: Prove you mean business by saying, "Come in. I will phone a hotel or motel for you because you can't stay here."

When they have to shell out money for room and board they won't run away from their husbands so fast.

Confidential to IS HE OR ISN'T HE? And how would I know? Appearances can be deceiving. Some virile-looking men (the real muscle-building types) are—and some aesthetic (and even dainty) males are not.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Teacher Doubles As Chorus Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — Dede Thomas doesn't see what's so unusual about being a school-teacher by day and a Broadway chorus girl by night.

The red-haired Dayton, Ohio lass, 26, who appears in "What Makes Sammy Run?" spends two or three days a week doing substitute teaching at Manhattan's Junior High School 79.

"I don't think this is really extraordinary if you look at the number of hours in the day," she says.

"I'm at the theater only three and a half hours in the evening and I get home about 11:45. It's not as if I worked in a cocktail lounge until four in the morning. I usually get up at 6:45 a.m. and that leaves a full day ahead."

She says that her husband, Jimmy Campbell, wasn't very enthusiastic about the idea. "But," she explains, "I said to him, 'Jim, I have all this time — what am I going to do with it?' and he agreed."

Their schedules almost coincide. He plays in the orchestra of the Broadway hit, "Hello Dolly," in the evening and attends rehearsals and acting classes during the day.

When Dede was a dance major at Ohio State University, she carried a full study load and danced every night. "I guess that's where I got into the swing," she says.

After working as a secretary in New York for a short time, she got a teaching license and taught physical education and hygiene. Then she joined the chorus of "Bye Bye Birdie."

Being on tour with the show didn't put a stop to her teaching.

"We had seven kids in the show," Dede explains, "and they needed a tutor, so I volunteered. 'When 'Birdie' closed, I came back to New York. There wasn't much happening on Broadway, so I took another job teaching."

Rapid River PTA Meeting Monday Night

RAPID RIVER—Rapid River P. T. A. will hold its third meeting of the year in the multi-purpose room of the Bay De Noc Elementary School, Monday, Nov. 30, at 8 p.m.

Ray Chase, federal forest ranger of the Rapid River District, will present, "Recreation in Our National Forests." Chase will tell of the recreation program, and will illustrate his talk with colored slides.

The high school's Girls Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Robert Anderson, will sing "America", from the Broadway play, "West Side Story," and "The Big Brown Bear" by Mana Zuccas. The girls will wear their new glee club uniforms. Lunch will be served by the fourth grade mothers.

Hunting at the Bert Proehl farm in Rapid River, Marvin Harris of Chicago, was successful in downing a 4 point, 150 pound buck Friday at 4:45 p.m. This is Marvin's first hunting success. He is the son of Mrs. Emma Harris and the late J. O. Harris of Chicago, former Rapid River residents.

Bert Proehl and Marvin Harris are cousins.

Parents of kindergarten children are reminded to set a conference date with teacher, Miss Loretta McCarthy, during the dates of Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2, and 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bauerle, Whitefish Hill, will be leaving the area soon to visit their children in Detroit before leaving for Fort Pierce, Fla., to spend the winter months.

Anyone wishing to donate an afternoon of service working at the Rapid River Library may contact volunteer chairman, Mrs. George S. Anderson.

The Rapid River 4-H Club is still in need of knitting leaders. Anyone wishing to help with this project may contact Mrs. Forest Pike.

New members of Rapid River's Congregational Church Choir are Carol Bowen and Cynthia Safford. Any other young people interested in joining the choir may contact director, Lavina Moss.

Rum Increases In Popularity

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rum, once a universal drink which languished in favor when temperance leaders made it a "demon" and a whipping boy, is making a comeback.

In the last decade or so, rum's popularity has grown sharply, particularly in the United States where consumption has doubled since 1955, though it still accounts for only 2.1 per cent of distilled spirits consumed.

The Distilled Spirits Institute, calculating from tax returns, reported U. S. sales in 1963 of 2.1 million cases.

Rising affluence in Europe and industrialized nations elsewhere, the growing acceptance of the Western cocktail and rum's adaptability in this regard have worked in its favor.

With Cuba out of the picture, Puerto Rico leads all rum producers with its scores of famous brands.

Made from sugar cane, rum comes in varieties ranging from 80 to a jolting 160 proof. The tamer varieties are favored in the United States, the greatest consuming country.

History shows that during the American Colonial period, rum was the top alcoholic drink, mainly because there wasn't much of anything else, and it made good hot drinks.

Rum flourished in America for around two centuries, but began to wane when slave-trading with Africa stopped around the beginning of the 19th century. Slaves were part of a three-way trade, the other two parts being molasses, or sugar, and rum.

It became the "demon rum" for temperance leaders. This, and the fact it was not a native drink since much of its raw material had to be imported, caused it to die out in popularity.

Ironically, it was the prohibition era in the United States which helped start its climb back to popularity. It formed the base of the better bootleg.

DR. ALBERT M. Kinkella, son of Fred Kinkella, 620 N. 14th St., Gladstone, will join the staff of the Marshfield Clinic, Marshfield, Wis., Dec. 1. Costly Military Club Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government spent more than a million dollars in one year to operate a mountain recreation retreat for military personnel and their dependents stationed in Hawaii.

Transportation was provided by plane or converted Navy landing ship from the Honolulu area to Hilo.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, in a report to Congress criticizing the cost, said this included more than $850,000 above receipts of $250,000 from daily fees charged guests and from revenue-producing activities in the 1963 fiscal year.

He suggested that the Defense Department take steps to place the recreation center on a completely self-supporting financial basis or else shut it.

The object of the investigation was the Kilauea military camp, located on the slopes of the Mauna Loa volcano within boundaries of the national park on the island of Hawaii. It was established in 1916.

"A need for such a costly recreation facility in Hawaii is questionable in view of the numerous other recreational facilities that are available," Campbell's report said.

He said that during the year at issue only about eight per cent of the 120,000 military personnel and dependents in Hawaii visited the camp.

The fees charged military personnel were $2.25 to $4 a day. But Campbell said the cost to the government was about $27 a day.

For the fee, military personnel were entitled to lodging, three meals a day, scheduled tours of the island and use of most of the recreation facilities at the camp.

Silver Wedding Party Held For Robert Duttons

RAPID RIVER — A surprise anniversary party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dutton Sunday at the Calvary Lutheran parish hall. Rev. George Olson made the announcement from the pulpit that following the morning worship service the congregation was invited to help celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Dutton's 25th wedding anniversary.

One hundred people gathered for the celebration. The Duttons received several gifts including a silver bread tray and butter dish. Rev. Olson presented salutations to the married couple and Mrs. Ronald Sundberg presented Mrs. Dutton with an orchid and Mr. Dutton a flowered boutonniere in remembrance of the occasion.

The Duttons have two children, Richard, serving in the U. S. Coast Guard at Alameda, Calif., who was unable to be home and Deanna, a senior at Rapid River High School. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton have also been parents to 20 foster children; two were present for the Sunday celebration, Tim Canary and Gene Ginzio.

The serving table was complemented by a decorative anniversary cake. The planned pot luck meal was sponsored by Calvary Lutheran congregation.

Woman Injured When Car Skids On Icy Highway

Frances Mary LaCrosse, a 74-year-old Norway, Mich., woman was hospitalized Friday with injuries suffered when her car skidded on icy pavement and hit a tree off highway US-2 & 41 just west of the Escanaba city limits, State Police of the Gladstone Post reported.

She was listed in "good" condition today at St. Francis Hospital.

Police said the accident occurred at 6:40 p.m. yesterday during a snowfall. She lost control of the car and skidded into a tree when a wheel left the road, officers said.

Kenneth H. Savage of Powers was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, police said, after his car left Co. Rd B-5 north of Schaffer and sheared off a power pole.

There were no tickets issued when cars driven by Wales Vance of Taylor, Mich., and Kenneth Arbour of Bay View Location, Gladstone, bumped head-on at the crest of a hill on Sawmill Creek Rd., a narrow trail road west of Rock in Marquette County, police said.

Kingsford, rated top challenger for this year's Menominee Range Conference cage crown, barely nipped Menominee 60-59 in the season opener for both teams this week . . . Menominee, coached this year by Bob Krysiak, scored four points in the final half minute of action and hit a field goal a fraction of a second after the final buzzer . . . Dick Berlinski and Paul Santoni paced the Flivvers with 18 points apiece while Rich Dufresne topped Menominee scorers with 14.

The Michigan-Wisconsin Conference has approved the membership bid of Superior Cathedral to replace Superior East, which is dropping out of the conference after this year . . . Cathedral, with an enrollment of 202 boys, is the first parochial school ever to be a member of the conference . . . The other schools in the league are Maple, Hurley, Ashland, Bessemer, Ironwood and Wakefield . . . Superior East is favored to add the M-W cage crown to the football championship it won this fall . . . The Orientals opened their bid for the basketball title by whipping Ironwood 72-46 as Tom McCauley, one of five returning lettermen, scored 22 points.

Highly regarded Jeffers suffered a 74-69 upset defeat in overtime to L'Anse in a Copper Country Conference game this week . . . A field goal by Ron Swartz with three seconds to go gave L'Anse a 62-62 deadlock and Joe Marinich pumped in 10 points in the overtime session . . . Marinich finished with 35 for the night.

Con Yagodzinski, former Holy Name star, scored 23 points for the Whites in the Northern Michigan University's annual intrasquad game before a crowd of 2,200 fans at the Marquette fieldhouse . . . Yago hit on 10 of 16 shots from the field . . . Big gun in the game was Gene Summers who scored 52 points to lead the Greens to a 111-104 victory.

Chris Wangaard, sophomore halfback from Ironwood, was the leading rusher and scorer for the Northland College football team last fall . . . He rambled for 559 yards in 115 carries and scored 24 points . . . In all, he gained 884 yards in rushing, pass receptions and kick returns . . . Other U. Football Draft Slated Today In Two Leagues

NEW YORK (AP) — Spin the wheel and roll out the money bags — the pro football draft is on today. Before the day and night have faded away, the negotiating rights to some 300 college players will have been allotted to clubs in the National Football League and the American Football League.

Even before the drafting is over (20 rounds in the 14-club NFL, 20 regular rounds in the eight-club AFL, plus seven rounds of future choices), the real competition will start. With check books in hand, the owners and their representatives will seek out the athletes in their dens, or penthouse suites, and try to sign them.

Jerry Rhone, the Tulsa passer who kept on breaking records all season, will be the central figure in the bidding bee. Jerry was drafted a year ago as a future, with a year of eligibility — 1964 — remaining. Dallas in the NFL and the New York Jets in the AFL have the rights, plus a club in the Canadian League.

Dick Butkus, Illinois' fine line-backer, is in town to be honored as a member of the Football Coaches' All-America team. Just in case, Butkus has lined up a lawyer to handle the bidding when his name is drafted.

The AFL denied it had held a sneak preview draft that ran as long as 10 rounds. It countered with the suggestion that the NFL had been romancing college players and hiding them away beyond the reach of AFL phone calls. The NFL, through Commissioner Pete Rozelle, said it had heard that the AFL already has allocated the rights to a number of prominent players.

Except for the 76 who were drafted as futures or red shirts last year, all the seniors whose original college class graduates in June, 1965 will be eligible. That covers a lot of territory, including the likes of Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest, Bob Timberlake of Michigan, Joe Namath of Alabama, Archie Roberts of Columbia, Craig Morton of California, John Huarte and Jack Snow of Notre Dame and a long, long line of others.

Because of deals the Chicago Bears wound up with three of the first six first-round picks in the NFL, having acquired both Pittsburgh's and Washington's in previous deals. Green Bay and San Francisco each had two first round choices.

Houston, having acquired Denver's first round choice in the Jackie Lee deal, had both first and second picks in the AFL. Houston and Kansas City each had 23 choices in the 20 regular rounds and Oakland had only 15.

Russian Nationals First European Hockey Team To Play At Marquette

MARQUETTE — When the Russian National Hockey Team plays in Marquette Wednesday night, Dec. 23, it will mark the first time in history that a European team has played in the Queen City. Although Marquette has had hockey teams of one kind or another for forty years or more no effort was ever made to bring a top notch European team here. It might be said that Marquette was starting at the top because the Russians are the best in Europe and probably the best team outside the National Hockey League. Recently, Ulf Sterner the former center for the Swedish National Team, and now property of the New York Rangers was quoted as saying that the Russians were the equal of the Rangers and the Boston Bruins, the two weakest teams in the NHL. He went on to explain, however, that if the Russians were to play Montreal or Toronto or the Detroit Red Wings under international rules the Russians would hold their own. International rules differ from NHL rules in that body checking is allowed in your half of the ice only.

Two of the present Marquette Iron Rangers will not be strangers to the Russians as they played against them at Colorado Springs as members of the Mid West All Stars in 1960. Both playing-coach Oakie Brumm and Bucky O'Neill were members of that All Star team and although the Mid West All Stars were defeated 6-3 both Brumm and O'Neill had excellent nights as O'Neill scored one goal and assisted on another while Brumm teamed with Ed Krynsowski of Warroad, Minn. to form the All Stars tightest defensive set.

In addition to Marquette, the Russians will play Green Bay, Waterloo, Rochester and St. Paul of the U. S. H. L. and Toledo, Muskegon and Port Huron of the International League. This is the first appearance of the famed Russian Team in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and fan reaction will decide whether or not they will return. Because of the large guarantee necessary to bring the Russian Team here the admission price to the game must be $5. In return for their money the fans will get to see one of the best and certainly the most mysterious hockey teams of all time. In addition to the players and the coach the team is usually accompanied by a woman doctor and one or two "political advisors." These advisors are not

Jimmy Brown Eyes Record As Browns Seek Clincher

By The Associated Press
When Jim Brown scored his first National Football League touchdown in 1957, the Cleveland Browns were on the way to their seventh Eastern Conference championship in eight tries.

Sunday, Cleveland hopes to nail its first division crown

Patriots Need Sunday Victory

By The Associated Press
"The Eastern race isn't over yet," Mike Holovak, coach of the Boston Patriots, said of his club's chances as the team left for Houston to battle the Oilers Sunday in the American Football League's top game of the day.

The Patriots, 8-2-1, must whip the Oilers to keep alive their hopes of overhauling the first place Buffalo Bills, 10-1, who edged San Diego 27-24 on Thursday.

"You never can tell what will happen in a football game, particularly in this league," said Holovak. "I still feel we'll finish on top if we win our three remaining games."

The Oilers, 2-9, have lost eight in a row but Coach Sammy Baugh believes the home field advantage and George Blanda's quarterbacking will stop the Pats. "If we have as good a game as the last time we'll beat them."

He referred to Boston's 25-24 victory over the Oilers at Boston several weeks ago when Gino Cappelletti kicked a 41-yard field goal to win the game with just one second left to play.

Kansas City is at New York and Oakland at Denver in two other Sunday games that have no bearing on the race.

The Jets (4-5-1) back home after a two-game road trip hope to end a three-game losing streak against the Chiefs (5-5) by stopping Kansas City's Len Dawson, the league's leading passer.

Oakland (3-7-1) is favored over Denver (2-9) led by Cotton Davidson's passing and the running of Billy Cannon. The Broncos lost 40-7 in the first meeting.

Jofre Retains Bantam Crown

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — For Eder Jofre, the seventh defense of his world bantamweight boxing championship was both an artistic and a financial success.

Jofre, the undefeated Brazilian, knocked out Bernardo Caraballo of Colombia at 2:50 in the seventh round of their scheduled 15-rounder Friday night.

"I was well prepared and waited for him to make a mistake," said a grinning Jofre after the bout.

The 28-year-old boxer had a good reason to be grinning. He was guaranteed a tax free $50,000 for the fight but is expected to receive as much as $65,000, a solid payday for the bantamweight.

Caraballo, undefeated with one tie in 43 previous fights, was expected to earn $20,000.

since Brown's rookie year while the great fullback shoots for an all-time touchdown mark. The Browns can clinch the Eastern title and a championship playoff date with Baltimore by beating the Philadelphia Eagles if the St. Louis Cardinals fail to end a 13-year jinx at Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the Colts, who clinched the Western Conference title last Sunday, risk their 10-game winning streak against the San Francisco 49ers. New York-Washington, Green Bay-Dallas and Minnesota-Los Angeles pairings complete the schedule.

The Browns, whose championship drive was stalled by Green Bay last week, will be at full strength for their final home game. If the Eagles reverse an earlier loss to Cleveland, next week's Browns-Cardinals game could decide the Eastern race.

Jimmy Brown's next touchdown will be his 105th, tying Don Hutson's career record. The former Green Bay star established the mark in 11 seasons.

Another Brown, Philadelphia's Timmy, has recovered from a series of injuries and could hurt Cleveland if he is close to 1963 form. The Eagle speedster gained more than 2,000 yards running, receiving passes and returning kicks last season.

The Cardinals beat the Steelers at St. Louis earlier this season but haven't won at Pittsburgh since 1948. Joe Childress, Prestice Gault and Billy Gambrell are injured and may be missing from the Cardinal backfield. A St. Louis victory and Cleveland defeat would leave the Browns at 8-3-1 and the Cardinals at 7-3-2.

San Francisco has lost quarterback George Mira for the season with a dislocated shoulder, but is counting on veteran John Brodie and a Baltimore letdown. Brodie hit on 19 of 27 passes for two touchdowns and 207 yards after replacing Mira in last week's loss to Chicago. The Colts trimmed the 49ers 37-7 at Baltimore last month.

Running backs Ernie Wheel-

right and Steve Thurlow and all-league defensive back Dick Lynch have joined New York's long list of casualties. Washington has won four of its last five games behind the passing of Sonny Jurgensen and a tough pass defense. The Giants beat the Redskins at New York early in the season.

The Packers, with a chance for second place in the West, are solid favorites over Dallas in their second straight inter-division game. Injuries to Don Meredith, Don Perkins and Amos Marsh have crippled the Cowboys' attack.

The Rams are still second to Baltimore but have dropped three of their last four and may be without halfback Dick Bass and tackle Frank Varrichione for the third successive week. Minnesota running stars Bill Brown and Tommy Mason, who sat out an earlier loss to the Rams, will be in the Vikings' lineup for the return match.

Frosty Named Coach Of Year

MOUNT PLEASANT—F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca, Northern Michigan University football coach, has been chosen Coach of the Year for the second straight season by his fellow coaches in the Michigan District of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

It is the third time in five years that Ferzacca has been accorded the honor.

Selection of Ferzacca was announced today by Lyle Bennett of Central Michigan University, Chairman of NAIA District 23.

Ferzacca will be honored along with 22 NAIA All-State Players at the district's annual football awards luncheon Monday in Mount Pleasant.

Ferzacca's Northern Michigan team, with 25 freshmen on the squad's 48 player roster, won its final four games enroute to a 5-3 record against such formidable opponents as Southern Illinois, Central Michigan, and the State College of Iowa.

Frosty Ferzacca

Against such competition, Northern maintained its record of not having had a losing season in nine years, eight of them under Ferzacca.

The silver-haired Ferzacca who believes "good competition makes good football teams" has helped built the Wildcats' reputation as a team which "never gives up."

Northern has compiled a eight-year record of 43 wins, 23 losses, and two ties under Ferzacca who is in his 31st year of coaching.

He came to Northern in 1957 as head football coach and later assumed the additional responsibilities of athletic director.

Ferzacca also was named NAIA Coach of the Year in 1960 when Northern posted an 8-1-1 mark and competed in the first post-session tournament in the history of the University.

Name Nyquist To Star Team

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Northern Michigan University football coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca has been named NAIA District 23 Coach of the Year for the second straight year.

Announcement of Ferzacca's award and selection of a 22-man All State team, made up of NAIA member schools, was announced Friday.

Ferzacca's freshman and sophomore — dominated team reeled off four straight victories at the close of the season to finish with a 5-3 record.

Hillsdale College dominated the All State team with eight selections.

Dales named to the offensive team were ends Larry Fowler and Bill Murphy, tackle Bob Mallendick and halfback Bruce McLenna. Tackle Larry Scroby, guard Dennis Korowin, line-backer Doug Sattler and back Jerry Simmons were named to the defensive team.

Others on the offensive team were tackle Jim Hadley, guard Barry Rubin and center Richard Willing of Eastern Michigan; guard Pat Stump and Quarterback Terry Nyquist of Northern Michigan; fullback Bruce Wyman of Central Michigan, and back Emery Welch of Ferris State.

End Bernie Schmitt and tackle Allen Ische of Northern Michigan; guard Ken Bickel, line-backer Frank Goldberg and defensive back Jamie Gent of Central Michigan; back William MacGillivray of Eastern Michigan and end Mike Warren of Ferris, round out the defensive team.

Soo Tech Wins Tourney Opener

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Host Soo Tech and Northwood Institute advanced to the finals Friday night with first round victories in the Kiwanis Invitational Basketball tournament.

Soo Tech ousted Northwestern Junior College 95-66 behind Gordon Hetrick's 17 points. Tom Schneider had 20 for the losers.

Jerry Pettway notched 33 points in Northwood's 105-63 victory over Laurentian College of Ontario. Tom Sutherland had 15 for Laurentian.

The two losers will meet in a consolation game before tonight's finals.

Con Will Start In Cage Opener

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University, which posted a 12-11 record last year, will open the 1964-65 basketball season the hard way, taking on Bradley University, last year's National Invitational Tournament champion, at Peoria, Ill., Tuesday. Game time is 9 p.m. (EST).

Two days later, Dec. 3, the Wildcats will tangle with Michigan State University at East Lansing.

Bradley, which last season posted a 23-6 mark enroute to the NIT crown, won 12 of its last 13 games including an 83-66 victory over Coach Stan Albeck's cagers.

Northern again finds itself in the role of David going against Goliath, but the Wildcat slingshot may not have the "zing" it has had for the past several years. Gone are three of the top scorers and rebounders who formed the nucleus of Northern's cagers since the 1961-62 season. Albeck will be minus the services of three-time little All-American Bob Armstrong, 6-5 Dave Cade and sharp shooting guard Bob Pecotte. This trio accounted 918 points last season, nearly half of the Wildcat's total output. They also grabbed 40 per cent of the NMU rebounds.

Albeck will count heavily on two seniors and a bevy of newcomers to take up the slack.

Back for their final season are guard Tim Bullock, Marquette, and forward Duane Soine of Roseville. Bullock, a fine play-maker, scored 165 points last year. Soine, NMU's number two rebounder last year, chipped in 186 points.

Guard Bill Koski, a 5-11 sophomore from Champion, and one of the Upper Peninsula's all-time scoring greats, is expected to get a starting assignment against the Braves.

At center Albeck probably will call on 6-4 junior Gene Summers of Flint who led the scoring in the NMU intrasquad game last week with 52 points. Summers averaged 28.5

points per game last season for Flint Junior College where he received All-American honors. Sophomore Con Yagodzinski of Escanaba is expected to start at the other forward position. The 6-5 former U. P. high school standout tossed in 23 points during the intra-squad game.

Other players making the trip and slated for action are 6-3 forward Tom Burmeister of Danville, Ill.; 5-10 guard Les Coduti of Ishpeming; 6-9 center Bill Driskell of Robbins, Ill.; 6-7 center Bruce Forstrom of Marquette; and 6-3 guard Paul Cirula of Green Bay, Wis.

Bobo Suffers Early Kayo

NEW YORK (AP) — "I guess I just got caught cold," mumbled balding veteran Bobo Olson. "Maybe I underestimated the kid."

It seemed like a safe guess. Old Bobo, a 36-year-old veteran and a former middleweight champion, had just been knocked out in the first round by exuberant Jose Torres — a knockout that could have ended the 2½ year comeback of Olson and may have vaulted Torres into a shot at Willie Pastrano's light-heavyweight title.

Torres, a Puerto Rican, wasted little time in knocking Bobo off the No. 3 rung in the light-heavy ranks, a rating it had taken him 2½ years of comeback to achieve.

"I had it planned," the lithe Torres explained. "He was in a crouch and I hooked him to the ribs. I hurt him. I know I did. I heard him go 'ohhhh.' Then I went in with a left-right-left."

Olson dropped. He rolled over on his back, struggled to his hands and knees and was on his knees, in an almost prayerful position when the count reached 10 at 2:51 of the first round.

Scoring Record For Prep Champ

By The Associated Press
Defending Class A state high school basketball champion Benton Harbor exploded into another prep season Friday night with a record blitz, but two other defending titlists may have a hard time making it to East Lansing next March.

Led by L.C. Bowen, the Tigers crushed Muskegon Mona Shores 106-68. Bowen notched 30 points.

Meanwhile, Grosse Pointe St. Paul, defending Class C champ, was soundly whipped by Hamtramck St. Florian 55-35, and Britton-Macon, Class D champ for the past two years, was edged 47-44 by Adrian Madison. The loss snapped a 17-game winning streak for Britton.

Defending Class B champion River Rouge did not play. Powerful Benton Harbor served notice they again are the team to beat in Class A by setting a school scoring record with their 106 points. John Rudley, a senior guard, backed up Bowen by scoring 26 points.

Rudley was tied for second-highest point honors by Mona Shores center Ted Huebner who also scored 26.

Two other teams passed the century mark. Carleton-Airport beat Gibraltar Carlson 107-82 and Detroit St. Thomas defeated Roseville Sacred Heart 108-89. Airport's 107 points set a school record.

Big O Tough On Gift Shots

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson, the Big O in the National Basketball Association, isn't a Wilt Chamberlain from the foul line.

Robertson demonstrated Friday night why his percentage on charity tosses is .785 compared to only .425 for the Big Dipper from San Francisco.

Robertson had 11 free throws and made them all as he led the Cincinnati Royals to an easy 133-112 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers. The Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Detroit Pistons 117-111 in the other NBA game.

Jerry Lucas put Cincinnati out in front at the start with two quick baskets. The Royals, with Robertson showing the way with 27 points, steadily widened the gap. Paul Neumann with 18 was high for the 76ers.

Los Angeles won its ninth in the last 11 starts with Jerry West's 33 doing most of the damage. Ray Scott had 33 for the losers.

Cincinnati plays at Boston tonight with St. Louis at New York, Philadelphia at Detroit and Los Angeles at San Francisco.

Officials Meet Monday Night

The November meeting of the Lake Superior Coaches-Officials Assn. will be held Monday, Nov. 30, at 8 p. m. at the physical education building, Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

Friday's Fights

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK — Jose Torres, 170½, Puerto Rico, knocked out Bobo Olson, 175¾, San Francisco, 1.

BOGOTA, Colombia — Eder Jofre, 117¾, Brazil, knocked out Bernardo Caraballo, 117¾, Colombia. Jofre retained world bantamweight championship.

Carlson Fund To Aid Family

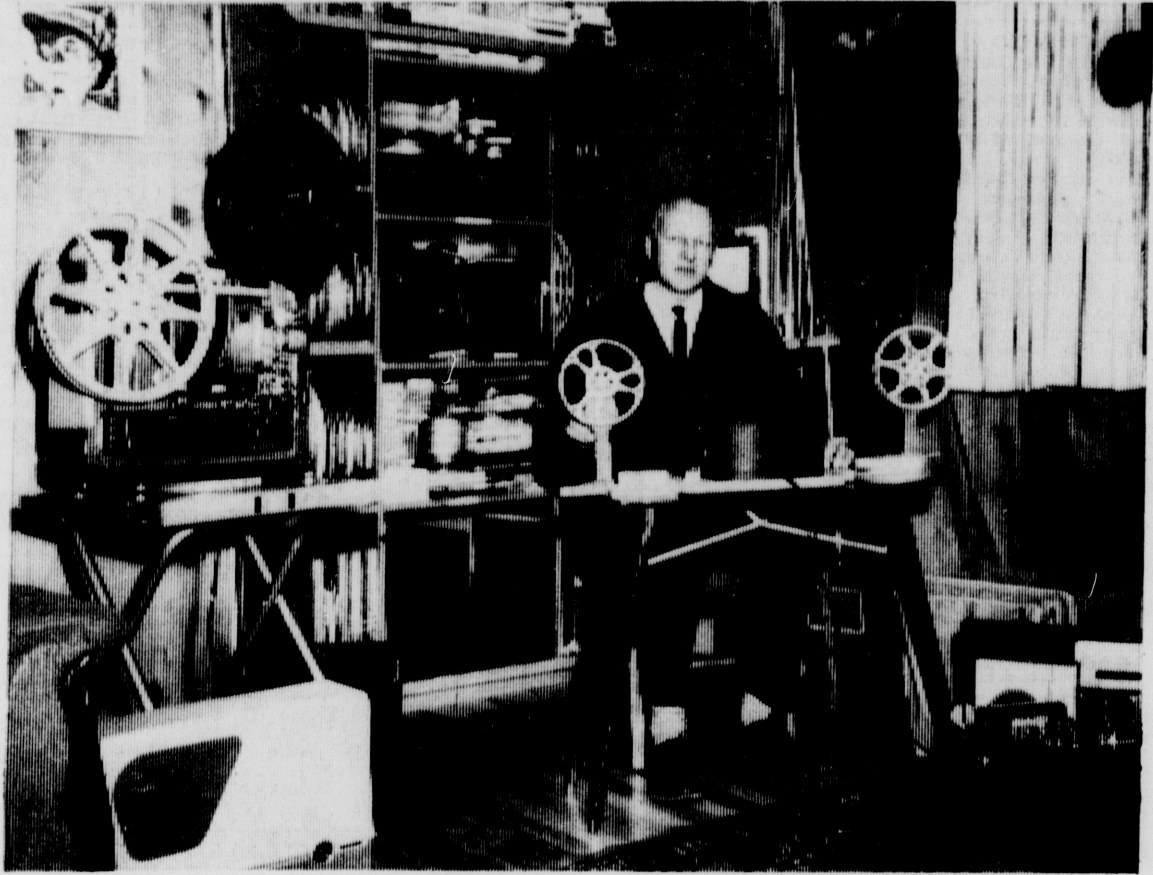

A memorial fund for the family of slain African missionary Dr. Paul Carlson, who was slain by rebels in the Congo, has been established by the Menominee Herald-Leader. The Detroit Free Press has also started a fund for the family.

The fund is to help Mrs. Carlson, the former Lois Lindblom of Menominee, raise and educate her two children, 9-year old Wayne and 7-year-old Lynette.

Mrs. Carlson is expected to return from Africa to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindblom, 406 3rd St., Menominee. She has been at Bangui, in the Central African Republic since hostilities broke out in the Congo in September. They resulted in slaying of her husband, who had remained in Stanleyville to care for the ill and wounded.

Mrs. Lindblom said she had been informed that the doctor's body was to be buried at his medical mission in a remote village in the northwest corner of the Congo, probably this weekend. She said she hoped her daughter would come home to restore her strength before resuming her work. She is a registered nurse who met her husband when she was a nurse student at Swedish Covenant Hospital, Chicago.

They went to the Congo in July, 1963 at request of the Swedish Covenant Church Mission Office. Contributions may be sent to: The Dr. Carlson Fund, The Herald-Leader, Menominee, Mich.

With The Deer Hunters

A 4-point, 150-pound buck was shot Tuesday afternoon behind Bird's Eye Veneer Co., by Dennis Viau of Omaha, Neb. Viau is home on leave from the U. S. Air Force.

Thomas Demers, a freshman at Holy Name High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Demers, 404 S. 13th St., bagged a 10-point, 155 pound buck on Thanksgiving Day in the LaBranche area. This was Tom's first year of hunting.

Hunting in the Gourley area, Fred Pirlot bagged his buck at 5 p. m. Friday. It is a 14-point.

Mother Hilaria Rites Monday At Mequon Center

MEQUON, Wis. — A Requiem Mass will be offered by Auxiliary Bishop Roman R. Atkieski at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Notre Dame of the Lake here for Mother Mary Hilaria, School Sisters of Notre Dame, 77, sister superior of the motherhouse and training center of the order.

Mother Hilaria died of cancer Friday in the Notre Dame infirmary in Elm Grove after several months illness. Burial will be in the order's convent cemetery in Elm Grove.

The former Juliana Coleman, a native of Chippewa Falls, Wis., took her final vows in 1910. She taught in Laurium until 1918 when she went to Our Lady of Lourdes High School in Marinette, where she served for 23 years. She served later at Detroit and Marshfield, Wis. She was elected commissary general of the order in 1959.

Advent Prayer Service Sunday

Cigarettes Safe, Says U.S. Jury

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A federal court jury, in a blockbuster decision in the "cancel-from-cigarettes" controversy, has found that cigarettes "are reasonably safe and wholesome for human consumption."

The verdict, reached Friday night after only two hours of deliberation, denied damages to the estate of Edwin L. Green of Miami, a three-packs-a-day smoker who died of lung cancer in 1957.

Green's estate had sued the American Tobacco Co., for $1.5 million, contending that the cancer was caused by smoking Lucky Strike cigarettes.

A previous trial jury decided that smoking was one of the causes of Green's death. But it said the tobacco company was not to blame because it could not have known at the time that cigarettes might cause cancer.

An appeals court upheld the verdict absolving the company, but later ordered a new trial after the Florida Supreme Court held that the company's "implied warranty" of the pur-

Fancy Flickers Flash For 'Cash'

BY PEGGY BRYSON

Casimir (Cash) Milkiewicz, of 306 Stephenson Ave., has developed his one-time hobby into a project that puts him in the "almost professional" class. He is well known in Escanaba as the "man behind the camera" at various sports, political and social activities in the area besides his job as manager of Sav Mor IGA.

His interest in photography began when he was a small boy and would show old movies and cartoons to the neighborhood children. When he was 19 he purchased his first movie camera (a Univex 8 mm for $24.95) one of the first cameras made for home use.

Until eight years ago Casimir had concentrated his filming to family use and has clips of each of his children since they were born. Family activities, especially the holidays, were main topics of the movies. Cash and his wife, Bernadette have five sons, Sidney, 24, David, 21, Ricky, 17, Terry, 13 and Steven, 7.

In 1956 he began filming football and basketball games for Holy Name High School, where Sid and David were active in the sports. He estimates that he has filmed over 75,000 feet of sports activities for the school. Most of the films are black and white but over 5,000 feet of color film were taken.

"I consider my best sports color film to be the Class B District final basketball tournament game," says Cash. "The game was played March 8, 1958 between Holy Name and Stephenson. Many local fans will remember that one, the final outcome was 53-52 in Holy Name's favor. It was one of the most hectic games ever played in this area and the films I took helped to settle a dispute as to what happened during the final minutes of the game."

In the past few years he has taken some news and sports films for WLUC-TV in Marquette and a film on the Ishpeming Ski Tournament for a CBS television station in New York.

During the past few years he has done some films commercially for banquets, weddings, vacation trips, parties, family and school reunions, parades, political rallies, special shows and sports.

Casimir has photographic equipment valued at over $3,000, including a sound projector and tape recorder. In addition to the sports he has over 7,500 feet of 8 mm film, over 20,000 feet of 16 mm family films and 4,500 feet of miscellaneous films.

Any camera "bug" would envy Casimir's travels to Nassau and Jamaica. He won the two separate trips through an incentive selling plan sponsored by Carpenter Cook Co. of Menominee. IGA Store managers competed for the trips each year.

The scenic countryside of the islands was an ideal setting for Casimir's "candid camera". In addition to the filming of landscapes, natives and buildings of Jamaica, Cash thought he'd like to go a bit further and get scenes not generally photographed by the average tourist. He joined a group of friends who had hired a car and driver to tour the "back hills" of the island.

"We were driving up on the mountain," says Cash, "when I had the driver stop so I could take a picture of a native cutting sugar cane with a machete. As I started filming, the native looked up and started coming at me, waving the big knife and shouting. I didn't wait to hear what he shouted but jumped into the car . . . it was faster than I'd moved in a long time."

"When I finally got composed I noticed everyone was laughing . . . it seems some of the natives put on a show for people with cameras and try to make our films a little more interesting. I might have enjoyed it if someone had forwarded me!"

His Jamaica trip films consist of 2,800 feet of color 16 mm film. The film is about 90 minutes long and requires two 1600-foot reels. This is one of Casimir's sound films and just editing and putting sound to the film took 200 hours of effort.

These films have been the program feature of many service club meetings in the area.

to the ground. The policeman kicked the student twice with heavy boots.

The car set on fire belonged to the New York Times bureau in Moscow.

Students first tore off the door of the car and carried it away. Then they threw lighted matches on the upholstery, engulfing the car with flames. Smoke billowed across broad Tchaikovsky Boulevard outside the embassy, snarling traffic.

Students staged a similar demonstration at the Belgian embassy.

A spokesman said no injuries were reported among U.S. personnel.

Tipoff Received

The demonstrators at the U.S. Embassy ripped through a cordon of 100 policemen to hang anti-U.S. slogans on the walls. Two students tried to climb a fence but were hauled down.

"Hands Off the Congo" and "shame to Colonizers" read signs of the demonstrators.

The embassy was tipped off that a possible demonstration would be staged to protest the U.S. role in the Congo rescue mission. Students at the university were reported massing before the March.

Embassy personnel had screens placed behind windows to catch flying glass. One of two gates leading to a rear courtyard was also closed off. The outbreak was the first against the U.S. Embassy since a demonstration in 1962 during the Cuban missile crisis.

Students from the Lumumba University also smashed embassy windows and splashed the nine-story building with ink in 1961 to protest the Bay of Pigs invasion against Cuba.

Altar Society Entertains At Pinecrest

HERMANVILLE — Twelve members of St. Mary's Altar Society, Hermansville, went to Pinecrest Medical Facility at Powers Thursday evening. Once a month the staff, Auxiliary, or some area organization sponsors a party for those patients whose birthdays fall during the month. The women took prizes for the games and cup cakes for lunch.

After the party, Geno Marcantonio, administrator, took the group through the new section being added to Pinecrest. They also visited the new arts and crafts room where many of the patients work at weaving, ceramics, knitting and making purses, etc. This work is under the direction of Mrs. John Duca. She explained there is always a need for old clothing, cotton that can be cut up for carpet rags to keep the loom going.

State Treasurer Role Uncertain

LANSING — Gov. Romney's right to appoint a state treasurer next year, as the new Constitution contemplates faces problems.

Legal questions concerning the offices of state treasurer and auditor general, elective in the past but appointive in the future, have sent officials to the lawbooks.

The immediate future of State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, a Democrat whose term was supposed to expire Dec. 31, is involved.

So is control of the state services now run by Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum, another Democrat who has been elected to Congress, which will convene again in January. Only part of these services will go to the new auditor general appointed by the Legislature.

Romney, due back Tuesday from a California vacation, had been expected to name Allison Green, Kingston Republican, as state treasurer. Now speaker of the House, Green ran unsuccessfully as the GOP nominee for secretary of state.

The new Constitution contemplates that the presently-elective offices of state treasurer and auditor general shall become appointive.

But the Constitution also says, for example, that the state treasurer shall head one of the 20 "principal departments" into which the state's 120 or more agencies are to be merged.

Until recently, state officials assumed the state treasurer's office would become vacant Dec. 31, at the end of the fifth term to which Brown was elected. Then they discovered in the new Constitution a cause which says:

"In the event the duties of any such officers shall not have been abolished or incorporated into one or more of the principal departments at the expiration of his term, such officer shall continue to serve until his duties are so incorporated or abolished."

State lawyers are trying to find just what this means, especially in regard to the treasurer and auditor general.

Proud of his 10 years in office and philosophic about his failure to win a seat in Congress, Brown is unruffled.

"I've always assumed my term ends Dec. 31," he said. "However, if the Constitution indicates that I should stay longer, I suppose I'd have to."

Brown has had several "feelers" about jobs, including some in the banking business where he is widely known.
